

Omar ibn al-Khattab

by: Ilyana Badwan

What is his name???

His name is Omar ibn al-khattab,

And today I Will talk about him

Story about him [page 77 paragrapgh1]

One day Omar found out that his maid accepted Islam.

He was an enemy of Islam at the time.

He called his maid and asked her about her new religion and started smacking her.

Story about him

A while later Omar asked whether she would leave her new religion, but the maid refused to leave the Islam religion.

Omar could not stand such refusal and started smacking her even more.

Tired and annoyed Omar decided to kill the prophet.

Story about him

As he left his home with a sword, he had met a friend who had become Muslim but had not claimed his acceptance of Islam openly.

The man asked Omar about his destination.

“I want to kill Muhammad,” said Omar about his destination

Story about him

The man replied, “Do you think Banu Hashim, and Banu Zurah would leave you in peace if you killed Muhammad?”

Omar said, “What! You have become Muslim as well and had left your forefathers’ religion?”

Fun Fact about Omar ibn al-khattab

Omar Ibn Al-Khattab became Prophet Muhammad's companion when he converted to Islam around 616 CE (or the 6th year of prophethood), initially having been a strong opponent of the new religion. His conversion was a pivotal moment, leading him to become a close advisor and a key figure in the early Muslim community.
